FIGHTING CONTINUES IN FLANDERS; BRITISH REGAIN GROUND

Lloyd George Cheered in Commons When He Discusses Maurice Charges

BRITISH PREMIER SAYS CRITIC SHOULD HAVE GONE TO HIM

Asquith Declares His Motion Regarding Charges Was Not an Effort to Obtain a Vote of Censure of the Government.

EXPECTED IT TO BE ACCEPTED

Declares He Has Never Opposed Any Plan, but Has Tried to Help—Proposes Select Investigating Committee.

LONDON, May 9 (By A. P.).—In the House of Commons today former Premier Asquith denied that his motion respecting the Gen. Maurice affair was designed to obtain a vote of censure of the Government, saying it was absurd to describe it as such. Should he find it his duty to censure the Government, he said, he hoped that he would have the courage to do so in direct and unequivocal form.

Asquith moved for the appointment of a select committee to investigate the charges made by Gen. Maurice, and said he thought it was not the business of Parliament to constantly inquire into the conduct of successive phases of the war. The House of Commons, he added, had more than enough of such inquiries already.

Premier Lloyd George was cheered loudly when he arose to speak. He said he had been treated unfairly. It was the business of Gen. Maurice to come to the Cabinet and point out where the Ministers had made mistakes, he declared.

Asquith said that when he put down his motion he thought it would be accepted by the Government. He had never yet given an adverse vote on any proposal made by the Government. He had endeavored to help the Government in the prosecution of the war and in defining the great purposes of the war and the peace for which the allies were struggling.

Asquith said neither he nor his colleagues had been concerned in the composition or publication of Gen. Maurice's letter. If, as he saw, the Government intended to state the facts, it would be anticipating the conclusions of any tribunal and would be only an ex parte statement.

The Irish Nationalists declined officially Wednesday night not to participate in the proceeding in Parliament today. If this information is accurate, a substantial majority for the Government in the event of a division on the Maurice charges would seem to be assured.

The intense interest in the crisis brought about by the letter of Gen. Maurice is reflected in the morning newspapers.

Maurice's Removal. The Daily Mail, although not withdrawing its support of the Government, says editorially that the Government have themselves partly to thank for the position in which they stand, having repeatedly shown timidity and hesitations in dealing with high military and naval officers who have failed at their posts. It adds that the Government might explain why Gen. Maurice was removed from the War Office and whether he had a grudge to avenge.

Regarding the withdrawal of Gen. Maurice, the Times says he was "superfluous." It adds that it understands that pending his appointment to a post in France, the General was allowed to retain his pay and continue to work in collaboration with Major-General Radcliffe, his successor, as Chief of Military Operations.

GERAH STREZHAK WANTS NAME ANGLICIZED TO HARRY STRAUSS

Gerah Strezhak asked the Circuit Court yesterday to change his name to Harry Strauss, the English version of Gerah Strezhak. The only reason given by him in his petition was the desire to have his name Anglicized, but J. V. Lee, his attorney, says Strezhak recently received a letter from a relative in Russia, who informed him that his parents, three sisters and two brothers had been massacred by the Bolsheviks at Krivo-Ozoro, Odessa.

CITY AND COUNTY BOND SALES $6,000,000 ABOVE QUOTA

Last Day for Banks to Make Reports—At Least 32 Business Houses to Get Honor Flags.

William E. Compton, chairman of the Third Liberty Loan organization in St. Louis Federal Reserve District, announced today that while complete figures were not yet available, it could be safely estimated that subscriptions to the loan in St. Louis and St. Louis County would be more than $45,000,000. The quota of the city was $39,107,350, and that of the county, $710,000.

This is the last day the banks have to make their reports. Compton also announced that at least 32 honor flags will be given to business houses in the city for 100 per cent subscription.

HITCHCOCK NEW SENATE FOREIGN AFFAIRS HEAD

Nebraska Democrat Succeeds Late Senator Stone as Committee Chairman.

WASHINGTON, May 9 (By A. P.).—Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska was made chairman today of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Hitchcock, who was senior Democratic member of the committee, succeeds the late Senator Stone in a rearrangement of Democratic committee assignments caused by recent deaths of several Senators.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas was named on the Foreign Relations Committee to fill the vacancy caused by Senator Stone's death.

The steering committee decided to increase the Senate Military Committee by two members because of its importance during the war, and named Senator Smith of Georgia as a member. Senator Knox of Pennsylvania probably will become the new Republican member.

Among other committee changes was the election of Senator Lewis of Illinois to a vacancy on the Finance Committee.

BRITISH TANK RUMBLES OVER CITY'S STREETS

Crushes Automobiles Placed in Its Path as Though They Were Made of Card-board.

AIDING THE CANADIAN ENLISTMENT CAMPAIGN

Accompanied on Tour of City Under Military and Marine Escort—To Help Thrift Stamp Sale.

Thousands of St. Louisans who gathered in downtown streets this afternoon saw for the first time one of the British tanks which amazed the Germans when the armored landships made their first appearance in the battle of the Somme in September, 1916.

The Britannia, which saw service in the Somme, Messines, Arras and St. Julien fights, and which has been on a tour of the United States since last fall, rumbled through the streets and gave two exhibitions of its prowess in overcoming obstacles by climbing over an automobile at Sixth street and Washington avenue and an auto truck at Twelfth street, near Pine.

It was cheered all along the line of the parade and men who removed their hats for the flag carried in front of it kept them off in tribute to the prowess of the fighting machine.

The start was made shortly after 11 o'clock from Eleventh and Spruce streets, where the Britannia climbed down from the freight car on which she had ridden from Cleveland. The first stop was made at the city hall, where Mayor Kiel received the officers accompanying her and at their invitation became one of the tank's passengers for the trip through the business section.

Crushes Old Automobile. At Sixth street and Washington avenue the first obstacle was encountered. An ancient automobile, touring car type, was planted in the middle of the street. The tank climbed upon it, smashed it and launched down on the other side and continued on its way.

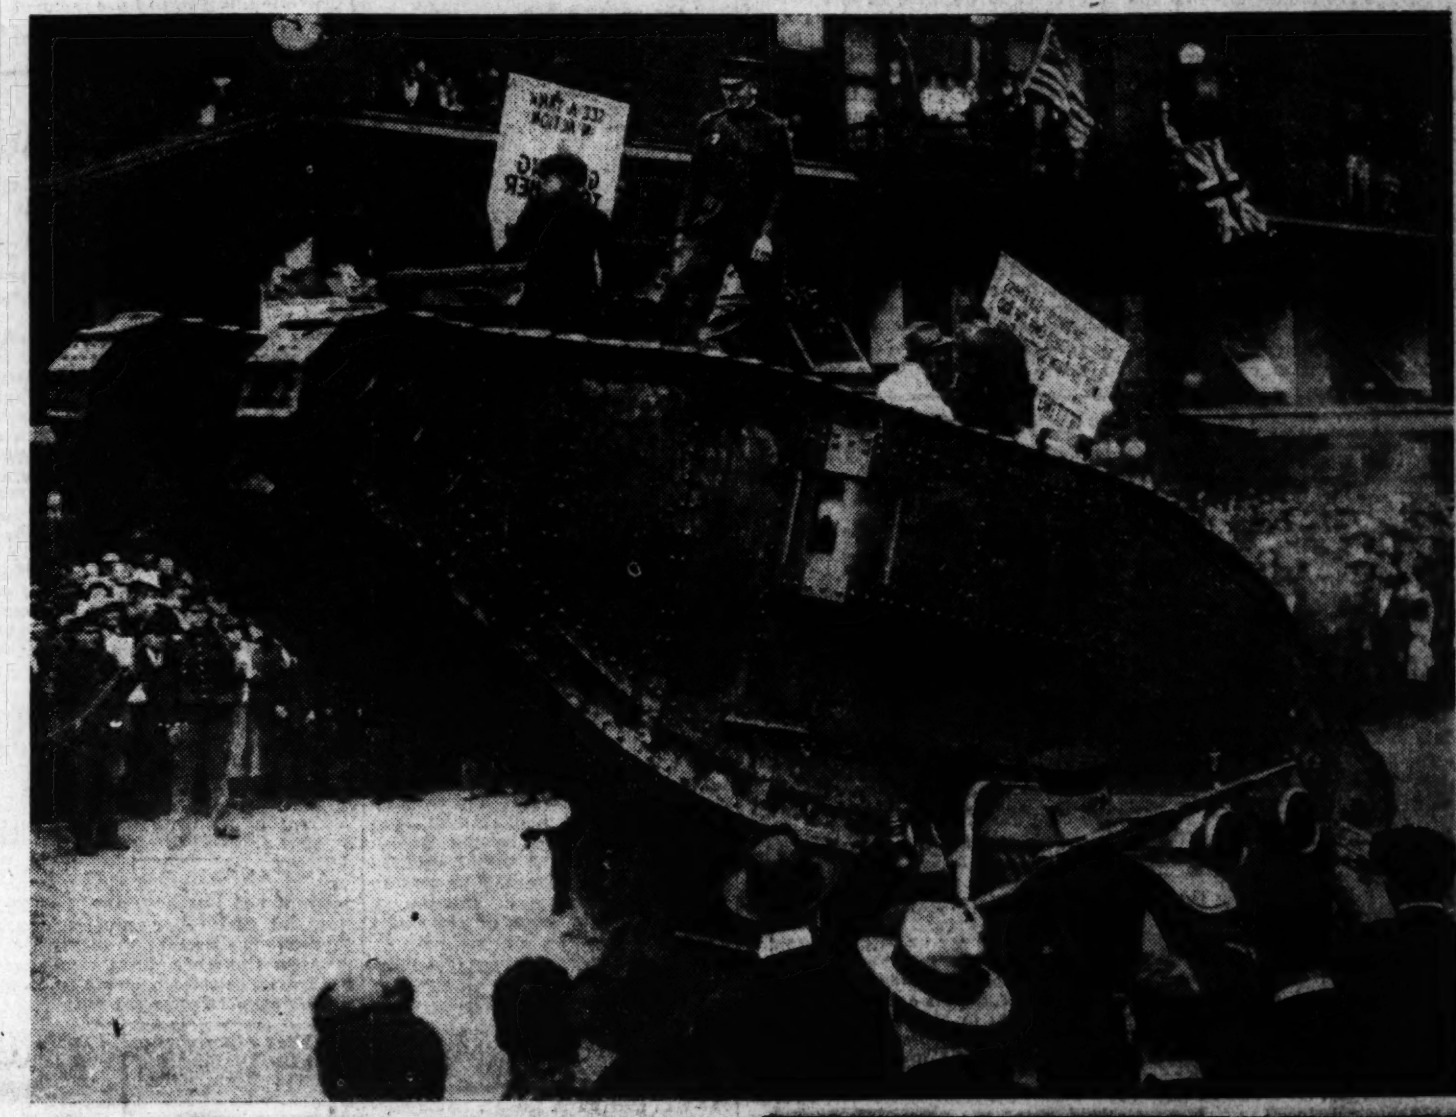

After traversing the downtown streets and making stops at several points to permit recruiting speeches, the tank tackled a laundry truck that had outlived its usefulness and was offered as a sacrifice. It was placed in the middle of Twelfth street near Pine street. Climbing over the truck, crushing it under the strain of the engine, it smashed it and wheeled the tank within her length and came back at what was left. He drove the fighting machine up on top of the rear wheels of the truck, crushing it under the strain of the engine, it smashed it and wheeled the tank within her length and came back at what was left.

The tank was manned by four of its crew and a Post-Dispatch reporter was a passenger on the ride from the freight yards to the city hall. An escort of United States Marines marched beside the tank, and an automobile, preceding it, carried Capt. Richard Haigh, who commanded the tank at the Somme. Lieut. Cameron of the local British-Canadian recruiting mission, Lieut. F. G. Rolph, who is acting as Capt. Haigh's assistant, and members of the local recruiting mission, the flag of the United States and of the

British Tank "Britannia" in Action on St. Louis Streets

The Tank is running down and crushing an automobile to show something of what it can do.

Riding in Tank Not Much Worse Than in Some Jitneys

Post-Dispatch Reporter Travels in the Britannia From Freight Yards to the City Hall.

Riding inside a British tank is not so much worse than riding in some of the jitney cars that used to carry St. Louisans during the street car strike last February.

A Post-Dispatch reporter was a passenger in the Britannia this morning on her way from the Eleventh street freight yards to the front of the city hall. It was probably the roughest travel that the Britannia will have in St. Louis, until it gets to some especially prepared positions. A remnant of the granite blocks that used to be so distressingly durable on all the downtown streets.

Riding inside was not so smooth as ascending on a department store escalator, and it was not so quiet as a trolley. The drivers wear overalls. But there was no occasion for fearing seasickness, or for stuffing cotton in one's ears.

No Place for Clean Hands. The tank interior is no place for clean hands and clean clothes, though. The drivers wear overalls. There are several means of entrance and exit. The easiest means is one of the gangways at the side. The more spectacular means is over the top, by the front manhole. Just over the drivers' seats, or at the rear. It was in going out by one of these exits that President Wilson burned his hand on the exhaust pipe, in Washington the other day.

Four men drive the tank. Two of them sit in front and one sits or stands at either side. The men in the rear are as much drivers as the others. They turn the tank, by reverse and forward movements of the caterpillar belts, on signal from the men in front. In this morning's drive on Twelfth street, Sergt. Blunt and Corp. Brumham sat in front and Gunnars Bailey and Alderman were at the sides.

The guns, 5 Lewis machine guns, hung on the left side of the engine. Their usual places of mounting were open and added to the facilities for seeking out. As the tank was run over, with open front, the drivers had much more air and a better chance to see the way than they have when the tanks are in action, and peep-holes and periscopes have to be used.

Engine Takes Big Space. The engine necessarily occupies most of the interior space. Three or four passengers could sit on either side, within, without uncomfortable crowding, but they would be in the way of the signaling from the front to the rear driver. Electric lights, sometimes used for this signaling, are not in commission at present, and all the signals are given by hand.

The engine, which looks and smells much like any other large gasoline engine, generates 105 horsepower by the British standard, or 240 American horsepower. When it is in operation the noise of the cylinders and of the exhaust is added to the rumbling of the caterpillar, in a way which discourages conversation.

There is not much choice of position inside. Anywhere is too near the engine for coolness, but the tank ran this morning, with both top-holes open and with the drivers approached, there was nothing to shield the stifling heat which must be found in the same place when the tank is in action, and all apertures are closed against shrapnel and machine gun bullets.

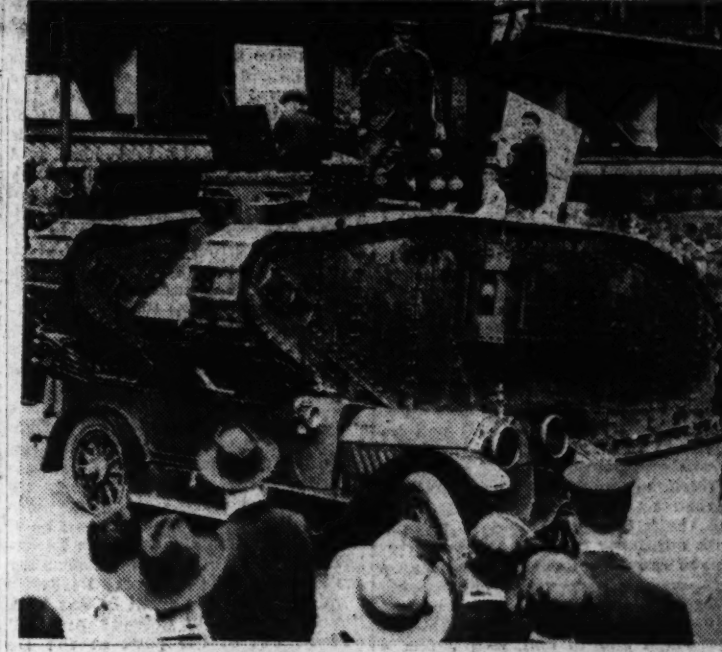

The Britannia's top speed is six miles an hour, when it can choose its own going. It did not make quite this speed over the South Twelfth street cobblestones, but it kept the United States Marines, who marched as an escort, going at a brisk cadence to keep up.

Looking out of the manhole, with the tank in motion, is like occupying the point of vantage in the outlook of an old-fashioned freight caboose. It is a very good means of seeing the country, if Paris is not shrapneling in the immediate vicinity. Looking out through the small holes in the side gives a jerky and fragmentary view, which in this case included people along the curb.

The greatest economy of space is shown in the interior. There is a drawer wherever one can be placed, and there are no loose objects lying around or hanging in the way.

Riding on top is a more precarious business than riding inside. The men who are used to it can stand on the caterpillar and step back as it moves forward, as a circus clown walks on a barrel, but they do not make a practice of doing this. The space between the caterpillars is narrow, and the motion is very unsteady, more so than in the sheltered interior. It is like a combination of the

GERMANS RESUME ATTACKS

Machine Gun Fire Presses British Back at One Point Following Counter Attack in Which the Positions Lost Yesterday Are Recaptured.

FURTHER PROGRESS ON SOMME FRONT

Haig Reports Heavy Losses Have Been Inflicted on the Enemy—Artillery Firing Intense on Front Below Amiens.

LONDON, May 9 (By A. P.).—By a counter attack last night by British troops the Germans were driven from the portions of the allied front line they had entered on the Flanders front in the La Clytte-Voormezele sector, the War Office announced today.

Yesterday's attack on the Flanders line was carried out by two German divisions. Heavy casualties were inflicted upon them by the British forces.

A new German attack was made this morning on the Flanders front north of Kemmel. The enemy pressed back the British line slightly at one point.

Further progress was made last night by the British on the front east of Amiens between the Somme and Ancre Rivers.

The statement follows: "Successful counter attacks launched by British and French troops yesterday in the La Clytte-Voormezele sector drove the enemy from the portions of the allied front line in which he had gained a footing during the morning and re-established the positions originally held by us. We captured several prisoners."

"This morning the enemy again attacked north of Kemmel and succeeded in pressing back our line slightly at one point, where the fighting continues."

"Troops of two German divisions took part in the enemy's attack yesterday morning. Heavy casualties were inflicted on them by our artillery fire, as well as in infantry fighting, but during the attack and in the subsequent counter-attack."

"Local fighting took place also yesterday at Buquoy, in the course of which we captured 10 prisoners. During the night further progress was made by us between the Somme and Ancre. Our new positions in this sector were improved. Several prisoners were taken by us."

"Hostile raids were repulsed in the neighborhood of Lens and Merris. The enemy's artillery developed considerable activity during the night in the Albert sector."

Machine-Gun Fire Presses British Back at One Point.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, May 9 (By A. P.).—Fighting was still in progress this morning near Vierstraet on the front southwest of Ypres. At one time the British were forced back slightly by machine-gun fire. All the rest of the original defenses, however, appeared to be again in the hands of the defenders in the Voormezele-La Clytte sector.

After their first successes in yesterday's fighting the Germans were unable to gain further ground, despite repeated smashes at the allied line. Bitter struggles took place about Kleinie Vierstraet, Cabaret, west of Vierstraet, and in the Ridge-wood, but the British clung desperately to their positions.

The British organized a counter-attack during the night which was so vigorous that the Germans were unable to withstand it and gradually fell back until they had abandoned all the ground gained.

Heavy Artillery Firing on Front Below Amiens.

PARIS, May 9 (By A. P.).—Heavy artillery fighting on both sides of the Aves River, in the front below Amiens, is reported in today's official communication.

Last Night's Official Reports on the Fighting

AMERICAN PATROL FALLS VICTIM TO SILENT AMBUSH

Enemy Evidently Used Bayonets and Butts of Rifles on Our Men as No Shots Were Fired.

FOUND BY ANOTHER U. S. DETACHMENT

German-American Is Caught Spying on Pershing Forces as an Accomplice of a German—Both Arrested.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Wednesday, May 8 (By A. P.).—An American patrol on the Toul sector fell victim to a silent enemy ambush last night. The Germans evidently used bayonets and the butts of their rifles. The Americans went out early in the evening and nothing further was heard of them until another patrol happened to cross the spot where the others had been ambushed. Not one shot was fired during the encounter as far as was known.

Using Big Guns at Montsec. American heavy artillery was fired today for the first time in the sector northwest of Toul. After several weeks spent in preparation, the American artillery, having riddled out targets in the rear of Montsec, reported that they were ready to open fire a couple of days ago. But for reasons not disclosed the guns were not fired until today.

About 40 big shells were sent over Montsec at the heavy German batteries composed of 203s captured from the Russians, which had been firing for some time, especially at the American battery positions. Reports received from all the units on which the Americans are engaged, with the exception of Picard, said that quiet prevailed to night, principally because of the bad weather. The artillery activity was normal, although the enemy was using a few shells intermittently on the Luneville sector.

German-American Spy Caught. The first German-American to be caught spying on the Americans is safely in custody. Behind the characteristic traitor to his country, contained in the report of his arrest, is the story that he aided a German prisoner to escape. Both men donned American uniforms and entered the line from the rear in the late afternoon. They said they were studying the ground between the lines with a view to using tanks and asked to be allowed to cross the lines. The other soldier, who made the report, soon discovered the ruse and ordered them escorted to the rear. There it was found that one of the men was a German and that the German-American was his accomplice.

At least three new German squadrons of pursuit airplanes have been sent up to the American troops in the Toul sector, for the purpose of "strafing" them, according to information received today. There was no aerial activity today, as it was raining heavily.

French Report Tells of Daring Raid by American Patrol. WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES ON THE FRONT, Tuesday night, May 7 (By A. P.).—The official French report tells of a patrol action in which American troops in the Lorraine sector of the battle front carried out a brilliant little operation on May 5 in the vicinity of the hamlet of Anservillers.

The report says the Americans, whose activity never relaxes and wanted to see what the Germans opposite them were doing. At 3 o'clock in the morning of May 5, without artillery preparation, three American patrols left the village of Anservillers, which is in the Entente allied lines. Two of the patrols took a position on the right and left flanks, while the third, composed of eight men under command of Lieut. Cassidy, executed a clever turning movement and entered Anservillers from the rear and fell upon the German advanced post.

The patrol fired only one shot and then attacked the Germans with trench knives. A fierce struggle ensued, the Germans using the butts of their rifles against the American knives. The fight ended with the death of two Germans and the wounding of their Corporal, who, with three other men, were brought back to the American lines. There were no casualties among the Americans.

Air Pilot and Observer Drove Off Three Enemy Machines. WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 8 (By A. P.).—The commanding General of a French corps has decorated with the war cross Lieut. A. J. Coyle, pilot, and Sergeant B. Board, observer of a photographic airplane.

The American plane drove off three German albatross machines which attacked it northwest of Toul, and then continued its mission.

500,000 U. S. Troops in France, Baker Says; 1,227,000 Drafted Men Are Now Under Arms

WASHINGTON, May 9 (By A. P.). SECRETARY BAKER yesterday dictated the following statement: "In January I told the Senate Committee that there was strong likelihood that early in the present year 500,000 American troops would be dispatched to France. I cannot either now or perhaps later discuss the number of American troops in France; but I am glad to be able to say that the forecast I made in January has been surpassed."

The Secretary would not amplify the statement concerning troops in France and asked that the press refrain from speculation as to what precise figures his guarded remarks covered or as to what possibilities of earlier further increase in the force on the other side there might be.

There are indications that the War Department has adhered to its policy of equipping every man fully before his departure. The present practice of brigading American units with French and British divisions, it is pointed out, makes the artillery question a serious one. The allied divisions have the artillery necessary. Man power is being supplied by the new arrangement and individual man power will be necessary only where independent American divisions or army corps are formed.

Baker said there had been no question brought up as to the supplies of light-type Browning guns, which were coming forward in quantities. He would not say whether shipment of these guns to France had been started. As to the heavy Brownings, he said: "Early manufacturers' estimates as to the production of the heavy type perhaps were more optimistic than was justified. The estimate of the ordnance department in January has been met and is being met. Some of these heavy guns have been produced and there is every indication of forthcoming production in increasing and substantial numbers."

To date 1,227,000 Americans have been called to the colors under the selective service act. Provost Marshal General Crowder said yesterday: "With the more than 500,000 volunteers in the regular army and more than 400,000 in the national guard, Gen. Crowder's statement would mean that more than 2,100,000 men will be in camp and in the field June 1."

BRITISH TANK RUMBLES OVER CITY'S STREETS

Leading allied countries were carried in the line, and three bagpipers, the British Artillery Band from Camp Funston and a detachment of the Great Lakes Naval Band alternated in furnishing music.

The Polish recruiting organization and the Thrift Stamp Committee followed the tank. The Britannia is a dull, mottled brown in color, and bears a number of irrelevant names, scrawled on her sides by persons in other cities which she has visited.

The tank machine-gun fire are noticeable on the sides. The Britannia's own machine guns were not mounted, but hung inside the tank. Sergt. Tilen traveled with the tank, and he went to the British-Canadian recruiting office, on Sixth street, south of Olive, to report to Capt. Richard Haigh, after the police had gone on duty at the railroad track.

Capt. Haigh and seven men, all veterans in tank fighting, and in solid tank and trench warfare, arrived yesterday, and are staying at the Missouri Athletic Association. The visit of the tank to St. Louis was so timed as to precede the play, "Getting Together," which is to be here next week and which is a stage vehicle for recruiting for the British-Canadian forces.

To Aid Stamp Sale. The tank will stand, this afternoon and tomorrow morning, on Twelfth street, south of Olive, near the statue of "America Defending Civilization." Speeches in behalf of the British-Canadian recruiting mission will be made from the top of the tank, and the public will be admitted to the interior on the purchase of thrift stamps. An adult can enter on purchasing four 35 stamps, at $4.16 each—total $16.64. A child under 14 will be admitted on purchasing one 35 stamp. The stamps, each of which is worth $5 in 1923, are to be retained by the purchaser.

Women members of a committee headed by Mrs. N. A. McMillan, in the thrift stamp campaign, have a both adjoining the tank. Postal employees are also active in the stamp sale.

The Britannia weighs 26 tons and is a mass of steel plate and holes, 26 feet from end to end, and 7 feet 4 inches in height at the middle. It slopes downward from above and upward from below to rounded ends on the "caterpillar" principle. The caterpillar treads on which it moves are in 95 1-inch sections on each of two bands. Each section has a 2-inch raised flange for gripping the ground.

Viscount Northcliffe suggested the tank be sent to the United States as its appearance in England aroused great enthusiasm. It arrived last October and has participated in several Liberty Loan parades.

BRITISH RECAPTURE TRENCHES IN FLANDERS; FIGHTING CONTINUES

launched a strong local attack against French and British troops holding the sector between La Clytte and Voormeseele, and in the center his attack succeeded, after heavy fighting, in securing the front line of the allied position in certain parts. The fighting continues in these localities. At all other points the enemy's attacks were repulsed.

By successful local operations the French troops advanced their line during the night south of La Clytte and captured a number of prisoners.

BERLIN, via London, May 8.—The German official communication issued today says: "South of the Neupont Canal we captured some Belgians on the occasion of successful reconnoitering operations. "On the Flanders battle field and on the Lys the artillery battle was revived at Mont Kemmel and near to the west of Bailleul. "During further engagements on the Somme battlefields English and French prisoners were taken. On both sides of the Corbie-Bray road, after strong mining preparations, the enemy unsuccessfully attacked. Troops kept at readiness were affected."

STEADY BATTERY FIRE ON AMERICAN SECTOR

Patrol Fights Frequent and Germans Are Trying a New Kind of Grenade Attack.

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World. Copyright, 1918 by Press Pub. Co.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN THE FIELD, France, May 8.—A steady harassing fire continues to be the dominant factor in this sector of the American artillery frequently knocking out the enemy batteries. As I write there is a continuous roll of battery fire. It proceeds all day, and after nightfall the world hereabouts is bathed constantly with the lightning-like flashes of our own and the enemy's fire.

The German front line has been quite nervous for several days, because of our patrol activity. These developments into short, sharp conflicts, as was the case last night, when one of our patrols encountered a German working party, shot the enemy with good results. In repelling the attack, the enemy used grenades and machine guns.

It has been ascertained that the Germans intend to pursue on a more extended scale his latest form of grenade attacks. The first occasion for these attacks again in this sector was last night, when one of our patrols encountered a German prisoner has since confirmed the fact that the enemy believes he can increase his attacking strength by this new method.

He sends forward grenadiers, closely followed by soldiers carrying bags full of grenades. The man in front, without looking behind, mechanically places first one hand and then another to his shoulder. The man behind does nothing but feed the hands of the grenadier and the grenadier in turn, tries to keep up a steady barrage with grenades.

These storm grenadiers and their bomb-feeding assistants are specially trained and they are considered doomed men.

One of these was Maj. Rasmussen, who was killed almost at the same time as Maj. Griffiths, show the character of this brave fighter. Maj. Rasmussen, who had already been wounded four times in the British army, lost his fifth wound in this attack just before he died he said to the men around him: "Carry on, boys. I've given them all the hell I can."

Julia Stinson of St. Louis, who was recently placed in charge of the Red Cross nurses in this sector today, arriving for the arrival of more American nurses in the hospital here. She received mention from Sir Douglas Haig when she was matron in the St. Louis hospital.

Letter Found on German's Body Tells of Enemy's Difficulties. WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 9 (By A. P.).—Except for artillery firing and patrolling there is little new in Picardy. Every day the Americans become stronger. Apparently they are better entrenched than the Germans, who are being continually harassed, day and night. Despite the enemy's heavy expenditure in gas he has obtained no advantage in this sector, the Americans discounting his every move.

The weather has been unsettled for several days preventing much infantry activity. There have been some aerial encounters.

One of the American patrols last night encountered an enemy working party. They shot the sentinel and rushed the enemy, but later retired owing to the superiority in numbers the Germans had over them.

A letter freshly written found on the body of a German killed by the Americans in Picardy, shows the effectiveness of the American fire against the enemy and the difficulties the Germans are having in bringing up supplies. The letter follows: "Here we lie in a village which has been completely demolished by artillery fire. The village is near Mont Didier. "We dare not show ourselves. We live in the cellar. We have to go and get our food at night. Last night I went out with a detail which brought back food. "We had a direct hit. A shell hit our party, which killed some men and wounded several. I hope we will soon be taken from the western army."

"We had a direct hit. A shell hit our party, which killed some men and wounded several. I hope we will soon be taken from the western army."

Canadian Soldier Burns Hand on Tank in Same Manner as President. SERGT. A. A. Allen of the British-Canadian recruiting office here, burned his right hand on the exhaust pipe of the tank Britannia, on which he was riding at Seventh and Olive streets at noon today, in much the same manner in which President Wilson's hand was burned on the same pipe several days ago in Washington.

Allen was riding on the top of the tank and grasped the pipe to steady himself. The President was crawling out of the door in the top, and grasped the pipe to pull himself up.

THREE FILE FOR RENOMINATION

Three Republican officeholders and leaders were among the seven who filed yesterday as candidates for renomination in the August primaries. They were Circuit Clerk Nat Goldstein, Recorder of Deeds Charles F. Joy and Prosecuting Attorney Howard Sidenor.

Former City Committee Chairman Charles Laxton of the Twenty-seventh Ward filed his declaration of candidacy for the office of Constable in the Eighth District. Henry C. # Fight on Hindenburg on Ground of Failure in West Reported

LONDON, May 9 (By A. P.). FORMER influential officers in the German army, supporters of Von Moltke, the former Chief of Staff, are agitating against Field Marshal von Hindenburg on the ground that the German successes on the western front have not reached expectations, according to reports in The Hague, transmitted under reserve by the correspondent of the Daily Mail.

Another report which, according to the correspondent, appears to have some foundation, is that a sharp conflict of opinion has arisen between Field Marshal von Hindenburg, Gen. Ludendorff and the Crown Prince on one side, and Chancellor von Hertling and Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann on the other. The Emperor, after considerable wavering, is said to have inclined to Von Hertling's side, although hesitatingly.

SHIP CONSTRUCTION NEARLY EQUAL TO LOSSES, SIMS SAYS

American Admiral Makes Statement Predicting Building Will Soon Exceed Destruction.

LONDON, May 9 (By A. P.). Vice-Admiral Sims, replying last night to a toast to the United States Navy, said: "We know the submarine campaign reached its highest point in April of last year. It has since been going steadily down. New tonnage has been increasing until the corner has nearly been turned. We hope within the next fortnight the construction in the aggregate will be at the rate of destruction."

Admiral Sims spoke at a dinner of 1000 American naval and military officers and Y. M. C. A. representatives at the National Sporting Club. After the dinner the guests witnessed a boxing exhibition between Jimmy White, the featherweight champion, and the veteran "Pedlar" Palmer.

BILLS TO RENAME TWO STREETS FOR FIRST DEAD IN WAR

Von Versen Avenue Would Be Changed to Enright and Kaiser to Gresham.

Bills naming Von Versen avenue and Kaiser avenue after two of the first three members of the American expeditionary forces killed in France will be introduced in the Board of Aldermen tomorrow by Chairman Tamme of the Streets, Sewers and Wharves Committee.

The name of Von Versen avenue will be changed to that of Enright avenue and that of Kaiser avenue to Gresham avenue.

Pershing avenue is pending in the Board of Aldermen and will be favorably reported by Tamme's committee tomorrow.

The name Enright, for the street now known as Von Versen avenue, will commemorate Thomas P. Enright of Pittsburgh, Pa. Gresham avenue will perpetuate the name of James B. Gresham of Evansville, Ind.

Announcement of the death of Privates Enright, Gresham, and Merle D. Hay of Gilders, Mo., was made by the War Department on Nov. 5, 1917. The name of Hay has not been bestowed on a St. Louis street.

Several persons have petitioned Tamme's committee to change the name of Knappstein place to Rosati place. This, it was suggested, would honor the memory of Bishop Rosati, second Roman Catholic prelate in St. Louis. Knappstein place extends from Minnesota to Michigan avenue, about a block.

Chairman Tamme announced that it would be the policy of the committee to rename streets only at the instance of property owners and residents on thoroughfares which bear objectionable German names.

TWO SALOONS AND CLOTHING STORE HELD UP BY ROBBERS

David Rosmorin was held up by three men in his clothing store at 221 Market street last night and robbed of a $100 Liberty Bond and some small change. Joseph Quit of 513 Morgan street, who was visiting Rosmorin at the time, tried to take the bond away from one of the robbers and was hit on the head with a flat iron. His skull was fractured.

Two negroes held up Sam Farbstien, bartender at 1225 Franklin avenue, at 12:30 a. m. today and after ordering him into the icebox took $30 from the cash register.

AIRPLANE DROPS FLOWERS ON CASKET OF SCOTT FIELD FLYER

Demonstration at Belleville Station for Aviator Who Was Killed in Fall.

A ceremony often described in dispatches from France took place at Belleville last night when the body of Lieut. William W. Smith, who was killed in a fall with his airplane at Scott Field, Tuesday, was sent to his home at Pawpaw, Ill.

The entire garrison preceded the automobile hearse bearing Smith's body to the south gate of Scott Field, where it drew up in two files of bare heads between which the hearse passed. A detachment of 28 men continued to the Belleville station with the body.

Five minutes before the train arrived, an airplane took off from Scott Field and flew for the station. It swooped down until it seemed to the spectators that it grazed the roof of the station, and as it passed over the truck in which rested the casket draped in an American flag, the aviator, Lieut. H. C. Cook, dropped a large bouquet of American Beauty roses onto the casket and soared away. Returning, Lieut. Cook dropped another bouquet. Five times he repeated this.

CROWDER DISCUSSES LAW TO RAISE DRAFT AGE TO 40

House Military Committee Told That Legislation Within a Few Months Is Possible.

WASHINGTON, May 9 (By A. P.).—Legislation raising the draft age to 40 years was discussed as a possibility within a few months at a meeting yesterday of Provost Marshal-General Crowder with the House Military Committee. Although Crowder made no specific recommendations, members of the committee said afterward that the War Department was considering a plan for changes.

An appropriation of $15,762,000 was asked by Gen. Crowder for expenses of the draft for the next fiscal year. Registration of men reaching the age of 21 will require the examination of about 2,265,000 men, of whom 2,000,000 are effective.

Chairman Crowder announced, he would ask the House to eliminate amendment giving States credit for volunteers.

Bread and Oil Peace Made With Rumania, Says German Paper

AMSTERDAM, May 9 (By A. P.).

THE Rumanian, Westphalia's Zeitung of Essen, a copy of which has been received here, prints the following: "We have concluded a bread peace. Bread is on the way—to Austria. With Rumania we have concluded a peace which, besides bread, is to bring us petroleum. . . . It is a long way from Rumania to Berlin. Between them lies Austria, to whose famishing border population in German Bohemia and Tyrol we have had to supply food to save them from death by starvation. The German people know all that. Is it any wonder they have become skeptical?"

Accused of Firing at Neighbors When They Objected to His Shooting at Chickens.

Two informations charging Adam Wackman, 70 years old, a retired wagon manufacturer of 4844 Parkview place, with assault to kill and flourishing a deadly weapon were issued today by the Circuit Attorney, when about a dozen of Wackman's neighbors complained that he fired several shots at a dog last evening as it ran across a lot where two children were playing, and that when two neighbors remonstrated he fired once at them.

Among the complainants were John H. MacCarthy of the J. H. MacCarthy Tailoring Co. former Circuit Judge Irvin V. Barth, Dr. Downes L. Harris and Ivan Beutel, all of whom live in the same block. MacCarthy and Beutel said Wackman fired at them.

Wackman when arrested last night told the police he shot at the dog because it had been stealing his chickens. He denied firing at the men. He recently complained to the police that 11 of his chickens were stolen in one night.

Wackman was one of the leaders of the group that fought and defeated the central parkway proposal in 1915. He also attracted public notice when he switched from the Republican to the Democratic party, and two years later ran unsuccessfully for the Democratic nomination for president of the Board of Aldermen.

ST. LOUIS CAR CO. STRIKERS FAVOR WAR BOARD'S PLAN

Painters' Council Agent Says
Company's Failure to Afference Existing.

OFFICIAL SAYS FIRM

Federal Conciliator Declares
It Is First He Has Had

Settlement Plan.

Commenting on a letter in yesterday's Post-Dispatch from W. B. Northrop of the Government Military Intelligence Department, in which Northrop stated that the St. Louis Car Co., 8000 North Broadway, had agreed to virtually all the demands of its striking employees and that the workers must refuse to return to work, Charles J. Eisenring, business agent of the Painters' District Council, who says he is leading the strikers, said the only difference existing between the workmen and the company was the company's refusal to affirm the policies of the National War Labor Board.

Eisenring said the strikers would return to work if Edwin E. Meisner, vice president of the company, would agree to settle all differences in accordance with the Labor Board's policies.

Meisner, when informed of the strikers' attitude, as expressed by Eisenring, gave the following signed statement to the Post-Dispatch:

"We have already offered, through the committee claiming to represent all our striking employees, to grant a flat wage increase of 10 per cent to strikers who return to work, and not to discriminate against anyone for going on strike, or in the future for belonging to a labor union. We have also offered to shorten the working hours, as requested, and to mediate all questions.

Co-operation With Board Assured.

"We again affirm these statements in answer to C. J. Eisenring's statement as conveyed to me by a Post-Dispatch reporter, from whom I learn for the first time that Eisenring claims to represent our workmen. We have been under the impression that the committee of 20 striking employees with whom I have had several friendly conferences represented our men.

"We agree absolutely to comply with the principles and policies of the National War Labor Board, and have assured the Board our fullest cooperation in the matter of adjusting the labor questions at issue in order to resume production on urgent war necessities.

"Eisenring's statement leaves no differences existing between us. It is a new labor move."

When shown Meisner's statement, Oscar P. Nelson, conciliator of the Department of Labor, who has been assigned as conciliator to the car company strike, said:

"This is the first time I have heard of Meisner affirming the policies of the National War Labor Board. I am glad to hear that he has done so. If he is sincere, I will advise the men to return to work and submit the whole question to the board."

Meeting of Strikers Today.

The strikers are meeting today at Oberk's Hall, 7448 North Broadway, and Nelson said he would cancel another engagement to attend.

The St. Louis Car Co. has several large contracts for war supplies, including airplanes and machine gun parts and ordnance carriages, amounting to $900,000.

The principal policies of the National War Labor Board, to which both sides say they have agreed, provide that there shall be no strikes or lockouts during the war; that the right of workmen to organize and bargain through chosen representatives for their labor is affirmed; that in fixing wages and working conditions, due regard shall be had for such wages and conditions in the localities affected, and that other questions involved or arising shall be settled with due consideration of the pre-war status.

140 Men Who Passed Physical Examination Are Yet to Be Enrolled.

Enlistments in the navy at the St. Louis Recruiting Station for the week ending last night totaled 312. There are 140 men who passed the physical examinations yet to be enrolled, which would bring the total of enlistments up to 452. There were 749 applications.

The navy expects to bring its personnel up to 500,000 men by Sept. 1, which will require about 150,000 additional enlistments. The St. Louis office hopes to enlist an average of at least 1000 enlistments monthly.

Dr. Cleveland H. Shutt, St. Louis Hospital Commissioner, has promised the recruiting office to arrange for correction of slight physical defects of applicants otherwise acceptable.

Woman Who Never Worried and Lived to 102, Dies

MRS. MARIE SCHREINER.

MRS. MARIE SCHREINER, who was 102 years 2 months and 11 days old, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Anna Mueller, 3446 South Broadway. Until Mrs. Schreiner became ill, two weeks ago, she had been uncommonly vigorous for her age and never had worn eyeglasses.

On her 100th anniversary Mrs. Schreiner gave as the reason she had completed a century of life that she never had worried. She said that women are too often victims of their troubles, fancied or real.

She was born in Ziegenhain, Germany, Feb. 27, 1816, and came to the United States in 1844. After a short residence in New Orleans she came to St. Louis. Mrs. Schreiner had two daughters, 8 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. The funeral will be tomorrow at 4 p. m. from 2623 Cherokee street.

She had not had an accident, but with these few exceptions it was all just as Mrs. Bracken said.

Mrs. Gerse ordered a "special" for $12 and she paid, on account, she says, a dollar bill and a $2 bill which had been marked by the police. Mrs. Bracken told her, she says, she would win the man of her choice with the aid of the powders which would be burned for that purpose.

She had been going to a fortune teller, and had, according to the police, swept aside a portiere, revealed a man asleep on a cot, and declared: "I completely dominate him. I hold him under my thumb. Women are foolish to permit their husbands to go out into the world. They should keep them at home."

Miss Hoch went to a window, gave a signal, and a detective came in and arrested the alleged fortune teller.

Two Girls and Escorts Are Held Up in Forest Park

Two girls and their escorts, while seated in an automobile on Art Hill in Forest Park at 2:30 o'clock this morning, were held up by three men who occupied in a runabout.

Miss Hattie Lawrence of 1826 South Broadway and Miss Margaret Foster of 1212 South Broadway were robbed of their rings. Earl Sparr, 122 Dover place, was robbed of $50 and Joseph Franz, 6912 Minnesota avenue, saved $40 by giving the money to Miss Lawrence when he was being searched. He lost only 45 cents.

Two men jumped from a black touring car at Grand avenue and Barrett street at 2:15 a. m. and held up Albert Wiethop, a postoffice clerk, of 3502A Barrett street, after he had alighted from a Grand avenue car. They took 60 cents from him. Four other men were in the automobile.

WILL ASK PUBLIC HEARING ON PARK CLAY MINING BILL

Chairman of Central Trades Committee Says He Will Make Request of Board of Aldermen.

FEARS DAMAGE TO FOREST PARK

Cites Information That Similar Operations Elsewhere
Have Caused Caving and Fissuring of Ground.

L. H. Proske, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Central Trades and Labor Union, said today that he will request the Board of Aldermen to grant a public hearing on a pending bill authorizing the mining of freeclay in the south section of Forest Park. The Central Trades and Labor Union, at the instance of a local clay miners' union, has disappeared the bill.

The bill was introduced by Alderman Barney L. Schwartz at the request of Anton C. Stuever, on April 25, and was favorably reported May 3. It is scheduled to go to engrossment tomorrow.

Proske says his committee has information that clay mining in certain districts of Southwest St. Louis in the past have caused caving and fissuring of the surface of the ground and that the result might be the same in Forest Park.

Mayor Kiel, Comptroller Nolte and President Kinsey of the Board of Public Improvements say the bill amply protects the park against subsidence.

I investigated the proposition about six months ago and directed President Kinsey to make a survey and inspection, and was convinced that no harm can be done by operating the mine in the way prescribed in the pending bill," Mayor Kiel said today.

"With adequate safeguards against damage to the park, there can be no objection to the undertaking, and there are reasons for encouraging it," Anton C. Stuever, president of the Highland Park Clay Co. which is seeking the privilege, informs me that this is now the only deposit of clay available to his company. If this vein cannot be worked, Stuever says, his company will remove to the Charles River valley and work there.

This would mean the loss of a payroll to the city. If the contract is made with the company, the city will receive not less than $60,000 in the next five years without any depreciation of the park and without public expense.

Limestone Roof, Kinsey Says.

President Kinsey said that he had written into the bill the provisions for obviating damage to Forest Park and that he feared the first year's business showed a great gain. Since then the volume of its advertising has steadily increased, and the business until it is now one of the largest and most successful clothing stores in the middle west.

One factor in the company's success has been the policy of Mr. J. S. Wolff in instructing his salesman to sell goods with a positive guarantee that they are as represented and that if a garment does not give satisfaction it may be returned and a new garment will be given to the customer. The guarantee is clear and emphatic and means what it says. As a special feature of the company, Mr. Wolff will sell Hart Schaffner & Marx suits at a generous saving.

the park from the south side; excavate in tunnels or drifts not exceeding eight feet wide, leaving pillars of rock and material 50 feet square between the tunnels. The area in which the mining is to be done is that between the west line of the enclosure around the Mounted District Police Station on the east, Clayton road on the north, McKinnon drive on the west, and the south line of the park. There are about 43 acres in this section of the park. All of it, President Kinsey says, is underlain by freeclay.

If the city is to receive 20 cents a ton for the clay taken from the park, but there is a stipulation that the Highlands company shall pay not less than $12,000 the first year and not less than $15,000 for the other four years of the contract.

If the tonnage of clay taken out in any one year does not equal the amount of the minimum, this sum must be paid to the city, but the difference between the aggregate payments and the minimum guaranteed may be applied by the company to the output in subsequent years.

The city reserves the right to keep an inspector in the mines to require compliance with the conditions of the contract and to supervise the weighing of the clay. The city may also examine the company's books and accounts. A bond of $25,000 is exacted to insure fulfillment of the contract by the company.

Boy, 16, Who Was Shot By PATROLMAN, DIES OF WOUND

Norman Wagenebreth was in Auto That Had Been Taken Away by Chauffeur Without Owner's Consent.

Norman Wagenebreth, 16 years old, of 2611 North Sarah street, died last night at the city hospital from a bullet wound. He was shot in the back by Patrolman Thomas Walsh of the Page Boulevard District on April 29 in the alley behind the home of Henry Craft, 5317 Vernon avenue.

The Craft automobile had been driven away without the consent of the owner and Walsh and another patrolman were hiding in the alley, waiting the return of the car. About 2 a. m. the automobile was driven into the alley, and Craft, a chauffeur, and four youths, including Craft's chauffeur, as they got out the police stepped from their hiding place and ordered them to surrender. The boys' rule in his report Walsh said that he aimed at the ground in front of the youths and did not intentionally wound Wagenebreth.

Wagenebreth was the son of Edward Wagenebreth, a department manager of the J. S. Wolff clothing store at 502 Washington avenue, is celebrating its tenth anniversary. The store is located at its present location in 1918 with a frontage of 25 feet on one floor. It has grown until now it has a frontage of 100 feet, and an enlargement which gives the store a 50-per cent increase in space has just been completed. This is their third enlargement of the store, made necessary by increasing business. The company reports that last year's sales were 500 per cent greater than in 1918.

In its early days the company did little or no advertising. After it started to advertise, the first year's business showed a great gain. Since then the volume of its advertising has steadily increased, and the business until it is now one of the largest and most successful clothing stores in the middle west.

One factor in the company's success has been the policy of Mr. J. S. Wolff in instructing his salesman to sell goods with a positive guarantee that they are as represented and that if a garment does not give satisfaction it may be returned and a new garment will be given to the customer. ## VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN AGAINST WINEROMS ORDERED BY YOUNG

Police Sergeant Notified They Will Be Held to Account for Law Violations in Their Districts.

Police Sergeant are to be held to a strict accountability for law violations in their precincts, according to an order issued from Chief Young's office last night. Winerooms, disorderly hotels and houses, buffet dancing, cabarets in saloons and clubs must go, the order says, and the Sergeant must take the initiative and not only see that their patrolmen perform full duty, but must lead in the work themselves.

The Police Board recently adopted a resolution asserting that the Police Department depends upon the Sergeant to get efficient work from patrolmen.

SURVIVOR OF TORPEDOED U. S. SHIP TELLS OF EXPERIENCE

Two of Eight Men Who Escaped on Raft Died and Six Swore to "Square Accounts."

CHICAGO, May 9 (By A. P.)—The story of the torpedoing of the U. S. S. Lake Moor off the coast of Scotland, April 26, was related by Lieut. Frank Pulaski, a Chicago survivor.

"The Lake Moor sank two minutes after she was struck at 11:20 o'clock at night," he said yesterday. "I was dragged 25 feet below the surface by the suction. Someone had succeeded in loosening a life raft and coming up I grasped it. Eight others were on it, including the captain."

"The captain said: 'Men, how many here are going to square this account if we live?'"

"Six hearty voices—two men were unconscious—raised acclamation: 'All of us, all of us!'"

"We floated about for two hours and then it was discovered that two of our party were dead. We slid their bodies off into the ocean and as they were sucked away someone of us sang 'Nearer, My God, to Thee.'"

The survivors were rescued six hours later by a Norwegian merchantman and taken to Glasgow, Scotland.

WOMAN RUN DOWN BY AUTO

Mrs. Hazel Bradshaw, 26 years old, wife of Preston J. Bradshaw, an architect, residing at 5947 Clemens avenue, was knocked unconscious by an automobile as she crossed the mouth of an alley on Taylor avenue, between West Pine and Lindell boulevards, at 8 o'clock last night. The car was being driven by a negro through the alley at high speed, it was said, and no warning was sounded as he approached the Taylor avenue crossing. After the accident he drove rapidly away. Mrs. Bradshaw was knocked into the street. Her head and face were severely cut. She was taken to the city hospital where it was said she probably was injured internally.

Let Us Talk About It Again

We wouldn't talk about this sale so persistently and so consistently if it was something that happens every week in the year. It only happens twice a year—May and December. And we wouldn't enthuse over it so much if we didn't know it's the most important women garment sale of the year. And we wouldn't be talking so glowingly about its importance tomorrow if we hadn't just received another big shipment of Dresses, Coats and Suits, specially desirable for present and early Summer wear—and all Summer wear. That's why we're telling the story again—it's new again—it's a good story and we know it'll interest every woman who'll take the time to read it.

11 SOLDIERS KILLED BY SHELL IN TEXAS

Explosion Near Ft. Worth Wipes
Out One Gun Crew and Another Suffers Heavily.

PORT WORTH, Tex., May 9 (By P.).—Officers from division headquarters at Camp Bowie began an investigation this morning of the explosion of a trench mortar yesterday afternoon, which killed a Lieutenant and 10 enlisted men. Six others were wounded. Private H. L. Davidson of Fort Worth and Private Alfred J. Woodie of Abilene, Tex., died today. Whether the shell was oversized, whether the gun was jammed with another shell or whether there was faulty construction somewhere will be developed by this inquiry. The English instructors at the camp were mystified by the explosion and say they never heard of a similar one.

About a hundred shells had been fired from the gun when the explosion occurred. Men as far away as 50 yards in the trench were mowed down.

Sergeant Norman Bow, a Canadian, who is an assistant instructor for the Stokes trench mortar, said he saw a soldier attempting to force the shell into the mortar and that he tried to warn the gunner. The explosion came too quickly, however. Bow was slightly wounded by a fragment of the shell.

The other dead are: First Lieutenant Alan J. McDavid, Headquarters Company, 142d Infantry, Overton, Tex.; Corp. Wharton Jones, Headquarters Company, 141st Infantry, San Marcos, Tex.; Corp. William F. Appleng, 141st Infantry, Elena, Tex.; Private Morgan C. Sanders, Headquarters Company, 142d Infantry, Abilene, Tex.; Private Euclid Simmons, K Company, 142d Infantry, Henrietta, Tex.; Private John Webber, Headquarters Company, 141st Infantry, Memphis, Tex.; Private Lucy R. Langley, Headquarters Company, 141st Infantry, Waelder, Tex.; Corp. M. J. Ellis, Headquarters Company, 141st Infantry, Abilene, Tex.; Private Dewey Tillman, Headquarters Company, 141st Infantry.

Commanding Officer Escapes.
Gen. E. St. John Greble, commanding officer at Camp Bowie, was standing less than 10 yards from the scene of the explosion with his two aides, Capt. Houghton and Lieut. Russell. They were uninjured. Lieutenant-Colonel Metcalf, division surgeon and an enlisted man, also stood nearby. The enlisted man was instantly killed, but Metcalf was uninjured. The bodies of some of the victims were literally blown to pieces.

The 141st and 142d Infantry Regiments were at the trench system near Benbrook and their firing practice was being watched by a large crowd of civilians from a distance. New mortars were being used for the first time and the sound of heavy firing at the camp had been plainly heard in Fort Worth since early morning.

The two gun crews, made up of men from the headquarters companies of the two regiments, were operating the new mortars, which were on a hill overlooking the trench system.

PLAN OF U. R. FRANCHISE ELECTION QUESTIONED

Right of Referendum League to Petition for a Vote Discussed by Election Board.

The right of the Citizens' Referendum League to seek a special election to vote on the United Railways franchise ordinance was questioned at a meeting of the Board of Election Commissioners today. Members of the league announced their intention of obtaining the necessary 12 per cent of voters at the last election, so that a special election may be held soon.

Representatives of the league yesterday filed petitions containing 7911 names, asking for a referendum vote of the ordinance. The number was greatly more than the necessary 2 per cent needed at this time. It is now planned to get 12 per cent, or about 22,000 names, including those on the first petitions, and thus call a special election.

The question was raised as to whether or not a resolution by the Board of Aldermen is necessary to bring about the special election. As the United Railways franchise ordinance, which the league wants repealed, was passed by the board, it is not likely that the Board of Aldermen would assist in authorizing a referendum election on it. If such a resolution is found necessary, the referendum vote probably will not be taken until the November election. Another question which arose was whether voters who have changed their residence since the last registration, September, 1916, and have failed to so notify the Election Board, are eligible signers of the petition into court. He and Vincent Oscar held they were eligible. Oscar B. Buder and Charles J. Lammert, the other Election Commissioners, contended they were not.

DAVID F. HOUSTON DISCUSSED AS PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITY

Political Writer Says He Is One of Capable Men in Cabinet, But Handicapped by Own Modesty.

In an article in this week's Saturday Evening Post, discussing the possibilities in the next presidential campaign, David Lawrence has the following to say regarding David F. Houston of St. Louis, the Secretary of Agriculture:

"Of the capable men in the Cabinet the name of David Franklin Houston, Secretary of Agriculture, comes to the fore usually in gatherings. He is a level-headed citizen reputed to have given the President on occasion some valuable counsel. But he is of a retiring disposition, not given to self-expression. His work is hardly known outside of his department, yet from the beginning he has helped Mr. Wilson on many matters that had nothing to do with his own department. It is said of him that he would have preferred to handle questions of finance rather than agriculture. He probably knows more about military history than anybody else in the Cabinet, and perhaps knows more about military theory than most of our high officers in the army. It has been his hobby for a lifetime. And it is an open secret, too, that he was once considered by Mr. Wilson for the secretaryship of State.

"Unfortunately men of his type do not inspire national committees and state chairmen. He doesn't popularize, so to speak. In that ideal state where sheer ability is the standard of competition he might stand a good chance, but in the politics of today he is handicapped by his own modesty.

SPECIAL NAMES FOR TRAINS WILL BE ELIMINATED

Will Be Known Only by Numbers After June 1 Under Order of Railroad Administration.
Celebrated passenger trains operating out of St. Louis will lose their names on June 1 and be known only by numbers, under orders from the Railroad Administration at Washington. Special names are looked upon as advertising.
The Knickerbocker Special of the Big Four, the oldest named train running out of St. Louis, and the Frisco Meteor, almost as old, will be numbers only after that date. Other glittering names that will be discarded are the New York Central Limited of the Big Four, the Colorado Limited and Twin City Express of the Burlington, the Alton Limited, Midnight Special, Capital Flyer, Red Flyer and Night Hawk of the Chicago & Alton, the Chicago Limited and Chicago Special of the C. & E. I., the Texas, Texas Special, Texas Limited and Southwestern Limited of the Frisco, the Daylight Special, Diamond Special, Panama Limited, New Orleans Limited and Seminole Limited of the Illinois Central, the Dixie Flyer of the L. & N., the Katy Limited and Katy Flyer of the M. & K. T., the Sunshine Special of the Missouri Pacific, the New York and Keystone Express of the Pennsylvania, the Golden State Limited of the Rock Island, the Banner Limited of the Wabash and the Commercial Traveler of the Clover Leaf.

McADOO STUDIES RAILROAD WAGE BOARD REPORT

Indications Are That Director-General May Reject Some of Suggestions Made by Commission.

SOME UNION MEN OFFER OBJECTIONS

Particularly Oppose Recommendation That 1916-1917 Increases Be Deducted From New Raises.

WASHINGTON, May 9 (By A. P.).—In recommending wages increases of $300,000,000 annually for all railroad employees drawing less than $250 a month on Dec. 15, the Railroad Wage Commission made several original and far-reaching suggestions on the problem of railroad labor which attracted the close attention today of Director-General McAdoo and other Government officials.
McAdoo is expected to announce his decision on the recommendations in about 10 days. There are indications that he will not accept them in their entirety. Some union officials have expressed dissatisfaction with the amounts recommended for the men of the organizations, the increases ranging from 43 per cent downward to 4.6 per cent, the highest paid men receiving the lowest increase and the average being 15.02 per cent advance over the 1917 payment.

Credit for 1916-1917 Increases.
Perhaps the provision of the recommendations that reduces in hours are not to be regarded as increases in pay, a stand frankly at variance with high railroad officials who during the hearings asserted that the Adamson eight-hour law was in effect an increase in pay, because the overtime resulting was inevitable and amounted to many millions of dollars in money.

Requests for an eight-hour day for all railroad employees and for time and a half for overtime were not acted on by the commission.
"At the outset of the hearings," the report says, "it was manifest that the matter of hours of service is lodged deep in labor's mind. A standard day of reasonably limited length is as much a part of the measure of justice with the workingman as is his rate of wage."

Not the Time for Experiments.
"It would be a splendid achievement if we could at this time crystallize the experience of the world into a conclusion concerning the length of the work day that would be of universal application.
"But this is not the time in the judgment of the commission, to make experiments which might lessen the output of that commodity which railroad men produce—tons of freight hauled and numbers of passengers carried. Since the commission's work began, as before, our needs as a nation and the vital needs of those nations with whom we are allied have been imperilled by the shortcomings of our transportation system. There is no one who wishes to risk a repetition of this condition."

"The railroad employees have asked for the shorter day, saying frankly that they did not wish an increased rate for overtime, save as a means of compelling the observance of shorter hours of penalizing the employees for too long a work day."

"At this time, however, to penalize the Government for working its men as long as they have been in the habit of working under their private employees, the railroad companies, is to take advantage of the twofold embarrassment of the Government—its need for the work and its inability to call in outside men. The commission does not believe that the railroad employees really want thus to hamper the transportation facilities of the country in its hour of need."

Hours Cannot Be Shortened.
"Manifestly, therefore, at this time when men must constantly be taken from the railroads as from all other industries to fill the growing needs of the nation's army, hours of labor cannot be shortened. While the commission is strongly disposed to a standard day, in so far as the nature of the service will permit it, its firm judgment consequently is that the existing hours of service in effect on the railroads should be maintained for the period of the war."

"But with this we earnestly urge that a most exhaustive study be made of this matter of hours of service, not with a view to the adoption of some arbitrary and universal policy which shall have no regard for the kind of work done, or to the effect upon the railroad service, but with these very considerations in mind."

"With the matter of overtime, as with hours of service, the commission believes that the existing rules and conditions of payment should not be disturbed during the period of the war.

"Since the war women have entered the shops, even engaged in handling freight and baggage, and have even been employed upon the tracks. Much of this work requires a physical effort beyond the strength of women and some of it is carried on under conditions menacing to health, safety and morals.
"As the war takes an increasing number of men, women must to some degree take the places of men. They should be cared for. Their burden should not be such as to hazard the health. Their hours should be equally short. Their working conditions should be healthful and fitted to their needs. And their pay, when they do the full work of men, should be the same as that of men."

Many Inequalities in Pay.
"The investigation of the commission disclosed many inequalities of pay in the same branch of service. In every case where the same service is rendered, there should be the same pay without regard to sex or race. Members of organizations and nonmembers must stand upon the same footing."

Large salaries paid railroad officials received the close scrutiny of the commission, which suggested that some might be abolished.
"The commission records," said the report, "that in the period of Government conduct of the railroads salaries have been paid in excess of the same footing."

M'ADOO STUDIES SUGGESTIONS FOR WAGE INCREASES

aries paid to officials who are not essential to the operation of the roads shall be charged as part of the operating expenses, and that a careful study be made of the proper relation between the salaries of the highest officials and those whose subordinates with a view to readjustment.

"It will be impossible to magnify the importance of the American system of railroads in the conduct of this war," the report said in conclusion.

"That England should want for bread because American railroad equipment was unwisely distributed or unnecessarily increased, is a thing not to be explained to the Englishman who regards our system of railroads as the model for the world. For our needs and for our pride this standard of superiority must be maintained and to this end no other one thing will so greatly conduce as wisdom and justice in dealing with the actual workers on the roads."

HAMLIN'S RECORD CRITICISED BY DEMOCRATS IN HOUSE

Representative Not Supporting Administration as Strongly as Indicated, It Is Said.

Attention has been called by Democrats in the Seventh Congressional District of Missouri, represented by Congressman C. W. Hamlin of Springfield, that Hamlin has not been as strong a supporter of the Wilson administration as would appear from a brief resume of his records printed as a part of the record of all Missouri Congressmen in last Sunday's Post-Dispatch.

While the statement that Hamlin voted for the draft law and for the declaration of war is correct, it is

GAINS WEIGHT; FEELS FINE

Mr. Clyde Shearer, 722 East Seventh street, Jamestown, N. Y., writes: "I am using Cadomene Tablets and they are making me feel fine since taking them. I have gained ten pounds in flesh and feel better every day."

Thousands of nervous, thin, weak, aching, impoverished men and women are daily getting vast benefits from taking Cadomene Tablets. They are not a "cure all," but just a wonderfully effective tonic to the organs of the body. Sold by druggists everywhere.

pointed out in a communication to the Post-Dispatch that during the debate on the selective draft, Hamlin was silent and was of no aid to the administration in the fight to pass the bill.

Prior to the declaration of war, Hamlin was counted against the administration on some measures, particularly because of his attitude in favor of a bill placing an embargo on shipments of munitions to the allies. In a debate on an embargo he announced he would vote to stop munitions shipments. Admitting such shipments to be legally right, he declared his belief that they were morally wrong.

Hamlin is being opposed for renomination by former State Senator Sam Major of Fayette, whom he defeated in the August (1916) primary by fewer than 250 votes.

TREATY SPLITS UP PART OF RUMANIA AS SPOIL OF WAR

Austria and Hungary Each Get Portion of Territory as Damages for Destruction in Transylvania.

BULGARIA TAKES SLICE OF DOBRUDJA

Remainder of Province Under Teutonic Control; Further Provisions of the Document.

AMSTERDAM, May 9 (By A. P.).

According to an inspired communication printed in the Vienna press, copies of which have been received here, it is pointed out that, under the terms of the Rumanian treaty, Austria will receive, to the south of Czernowitz, capital of the crownland of Bukovina, a piece of Rumanian territory about 600 square kilometers in extent. Hungary's accession of territory will be 5000 square kilometers of sparsely populated mountain country.

The communication points out that the payment of damages primarily affects the destruction wrought by Rumania and Transylvania.

It says also that the Bulgarian Premier, Radoslavoff, in an address, referred to the apportionment of Bulgaria of the Dobrudja up to within a few kilometers of the line of Constanta-Tchernavoda. The remainder of the province, he said, for the moment was left under the domination of all the allies (Teutonic). Bulgaria, the Premier concluded, had not been required to give territory compensation to any one in return for the territory she had acquired.

The German Foreign Minister, Dr. Richard von Kuehlmann, on the signing of the Rumanian peace treaty, said: "We hope that this peace not only responds with the political and economic interests of the allied Powers, but will also enable Rumania to establish herself and heal the wounds of the war."

The treaty with Rumania consists of eight clauses. The first restores peace; the second demobilizes the Rumanian army, except 10 divisions, two remaining as protection for the frontiers of Bessarabia and eight in Moldavia, the total not to exceed 20,000 infantry, and 3200 cavalry.

The third clause separates Dobrudja from Rumania and restores to Bulgaria Bulgarian territory which fell to Rumania by the treaty of Bucharest in 1913. Rumania cedes to the central allies that part of Dobrudja north of the mouth of the Danube. The frontier is rectified in favor of Rumania by the treaty of Bucharest in 1913.

State property in the land ceded by Rumania passes without indemnity to the states which acquire these regions. The inhabitants, however, shall have the right of option and emigration.

The fourth clause deals with indemnities, the signatories of the treaty renouncing any claim to reimbursement for the costs of the war, but special arrangements are to be made for damages caused by the war.

The evacuation of the occupied territories is taken up in the fifth clause, while the sixth provides for free navigation of the Danube, Rumania surrendering the right to collect tolls on ships navigating the river or entering ports. The central allies have the right to keep warships virtually anywhere on the river.

Equality of all religions in Rumania is provided for in clause seven, while the eighth clause has to do with the economic relations of Rumania with the central allies. These will be regulated by separate agreements which will go into force simultaneously with the peace treaty.

The first clause deals with the re-establishment of peace and friendship, and reads:

"Article 1. Germany, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey, on the one hand, and Rumania on the other hand, declare the state of war ended and that the contracting parties are determined henceforth to live together in peace and friendship.

"Article 2. Diplomatic and consular relations between contracting parties will be resumed after the ratification of the peace treaty.

"Clause two, demobilization of the Rumanian forces:

"Article 3. The demobilization of the Rumanian army, which is now proceeding, will immediately after peace is signed be carried out according to the prescriptions contained in Articles 4 and 7.

"Article 4. The regular military bureau, the supreme military authorities and all the military institutions will remain in existence as provided by the last peace budget. The demobilization of divisions 11 to 15 will be continued as stipulated in the treaty of Focani signed on March 8, last. Of the Rumanian division 1 to 10, two infantry divisions, now employed in Bessarabia, including the Jaeger battalions, which are the remnants of dissolved Jaeger divisions and including two cavalry divisions of the Rumanian army, will remain on a war footing until the danger arising from the military operations now being carried on in the Ukraine by the Central Powers ceases to exist.

Reduction in Strength.

The remaining eight divisions, including the staff, shall be maintained in Moldavia at the reduced peace strength. Each division will be composed of four infantry regiments, two cavalry regiments, two field artillery regiments and one battalion of pioneers, together with the necessary technical and transport troops. The total number of the infantry of the eight divisions shall not exceed 20,000 men; the total number of cavalry shall not exceed 3200; the entire artillery of the Rumanian army, apart from the mobile divisions, shall not exceed 9000 men. The divisions remaining mobilized in Bessarabia must, in case of demobilization, be reduced to the same peace standard as the eight divisions mentioned in article 4.

"All other Rumanian troops which did not exist in peace time will, at the end of their term of active military service, remain as in peace time. Reservists shall not be called up for training until a general peace has been concluded.

"Article 5. Guns, machine guns, small arms, parks of horses and cars and ammunition, which are available owing to the reduction or the dissolution of the Rumanian units, shall be given into the custody of the supreme command of the allied forces in Rumania until the conclusion of a general peace. They shall be guarded and superintended by Rumanian troops under supervision of the allied command. The amount of ammunition to be left to the Rumanian army in Moldavia is 250 rounds for each rifle, 2500 for each machine gun and 150 for each gun.

Ammunition Supplies.

TREATY SPLITS UP PART OF RUMANIA AS SPOIL OF WAR

to exchange unseizable material at the depots of the occupied region in agreement with the allied supreme command and to demand from the depots the equivalent of the material spent. The divisions in Rumania which remain mobilized will receive their ammunition requirements on a war basis.

Rumanian troops to remain in Moldavia until the evacuation of the Rumanian section. Excepted from this provision are the military bureau and men mentioned in Article 5 who are required for the supervision of the army and material laid down in these regions. The men and reserve officers who have been demobilized can return to the occupied region. Active and formerly active officers require in order to return to these regions, permission of the chief army command of the allied forces.

"Article 7. A general staff officer of the allied Powers, with staff, will be attached to the Rumanian commander in chief in Moldavia and a Rumanian general staff officer with staff will be attached as liaison officer to the chief command of the allied forces in the occupied Rumanian districts.

"Article 8. The Rumanian naval forces will be left to their full complement and equipment in so far as their crews, in accordance to article 9, are not to be limited until affairs of Basarabia are cleared, whereupon these forces are to be brought to the usual peace standard. Excepted herefrom are river forces required for the purposes of river police and naval forces on the Black Sea, employed for the protection of maritime traffic and the restoration of mine-free farways.

"Immediately after the signing of the peace treaty these river forces will, on a basis of special arrangement, be placed at the disposal of the authorities entrusted with river policing. The nautical Black Sea commission will receive the right of disposing of the naval forces on the Black Sea and a naval officer is to be attached to this commission in order to restore connection therewith.

"Article 9. All men serving in the army and navy who in peace time were employed in connection with habo o shipping shall, on demobilization, be the first to be dismissed in order that they may find employment in their former occupations."

Cessions of Territory.

Clause 3 deals with cessions of territory outlined in Article 10, 11 and 12:

"Article 10. With regard to Dobruja, which, according to paragraph one of the peace preliminaries, is to be added to Rumania, the following stipulations are laid down: (a) Rumania cedes again to Bulgaria, with frontier rectifications, Bulgarian territory that fell to her by virtue of the peace treaty concluded at Bucharest in 1913. (Attached in a map showing the exact extent of the frontier rectification with a note to the effect that it forms an essential part of the peace treaty.)

"A commission composed of representatives of the allied powers shall shortly after the signature of the treaty lay down and demarcate on the spot the new frontier line in Dobruja. The Danube frontier between the regions ceded to Bulgaria and Rumania follows the river valley. Directly after the signature of the treaty further particulars shall be decided upon regarding the definition of the valley. Thus the demarcation shall take place in autumn of 1918 at low water level.

"(3) Rumania cedes to the allied Powers that portion of Dobruja up to the Danube north of the new frontier line described under Section A that is to say between the conference of the stream and the Black Sea, to the St. George branch of the river. The Danube frontier between the territory ceded to the allied Powers and Rumania will be formed by the river Vatty. The allied Powers will undertake to see that Rumania shall receive an assured trade route to the Black Sea by way of Tchernavoda and Constanza (Kustendje)."

Article 11 says that Rumania agrees that her frontiers shall undergo rectification in favor of Austria-Hungary as indicated on the map and continues:

"Two mixed commissions to be composed of equal numbers of representatives of the Powers concerned are immediately after the ratification of the peace treaty to fix a new frontier line on the spot.

"Article 12. Property in the ceded regions of Rumania passes without indemnification to the state which acquires these regions. Those states to which the ceded territories fall shall make agreements with Rumania on the following points:

"Firstly with regard to the allegiance of the Rumanian inhabitants of these regions and the manner in which they are to be accorded the right of option; secondly, with regard to the property of committees split by the new frontier; thirdly, and fourthly with regard to administrative and juridical matters; fifthly, with regard to the effect of the changes of territory on dioceses."

Clause four deals with war indemnities, of which article 13 declares that the contracting parties mutually renounce indemnification of their war costs and special arrangements are to be made for the settlement of damages caused by the war.

Territorial Evacuation.

The fifth clause relates to the evacuation of occupied territories, embodied in articles 14 to 24, summed as follows:

"The occupied Rumanian territories shall be evacuated at times to be later agreed upon. The strength of the army of occupation shall, apart from the formation employed in economic functions, not surpass six divisions. Until the ratification of the treaty the present occupation administration continues, but immediately after the signature of the treaty the Rumanian Government has the power to supplement the corps of officials by such appointments as may seem good to it.

"Up to the time of evacuation a civil official of the occupation administration shall be attached to the Rumanian ministry in order to facilitate as far as possible the transfer of the civil administration to the Rumanian authorities. The Rumanian authorities must allow the directions which the commanders of the army of occupation consider requisite in the interest of the security of the occupied territory as well as the security, maintenance and distribution of their troops.

Under the Military.

"For the present, railways, posts and telegraphs will remain under military administration and will, in accordance with proper agreements, be at the disposal of the authorities and population. As a general rule the Rumanian courts will resume jurisdiction in the occupied territories to their full extent. The allied Powers will retain jurisdiction as well as the power of police supervision over those belonging to the army of occupation. Punishable acts against the army of occupation will be judged by its military tribunals, and also offenses against the orders of the occupation administration. Persons can only return to the occupied territories in proportion as the Rumanian Government provides for their security and maintenance.

"The army of occupation's right to requisition is restricted to corn, peas, beans, fodder, wool, cattle and meat from the products of 1918, and, further, to timber, oil and oil products, always observing proper regard for an orderly plan of procuring these commodities as well as satisfying the home needs of Russia.

"From the ratification of the treaty onwards the army of occupation shall be maintained at the expense of Rumania. A separate agreement will be made with regard to the details of the transfer of the civil administration as well as with regard to the

TELLS SALESMEN HOW TO GET OUT OF RUT

Speaker Before Sales Managers Put Them Into 4 Classes and Gives 'Truisms of Success.'

Paul J. Wielandy, of 4570 Holly place, president of the Blackwell-Wielandy Book and Stationery Co., put them into four classes, in a talk to the Sales Managers' Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon at the American Annex today. He gave the title of his talk as "Pulling Salesmen Out of the Rut," and said it was in substance the talk he gave to salesmen at their annual get-together meeting.

"Boys, give me the salesman—a gentleman always—with a jovial and sympathetic nature," he said, "the fellow who squares his dealings and always backs up his house and who is thoroughly posted on the line he is offering." That kind of a salesman is sure to succeed.

Characterizes Four Classes.

Wielandy classified them as follows:

1. The first salesman, such as I have described.

2. The every-day drummer—a good fellow who always gets the best room in the hotel, a good story-teller and who is satisfied to hold his record in sales.

3. The order-taker—the salesman who brags that he "cleaned up the want book" in every town.

4. The commercial conceit with the self-appointed title of commercial traveler—generally a fellow with a Charlie Chaplin mustache, who always arranges his trip so that he can spend Sunday with his "Dedemona."

Wielandy laid down what he termed "the truisms of success."

"In business," he said, "success is a synonym of honor, and confidence is established only by fair dealing. Young men, the truisms of success are:

"Apply your mother's teachings as a boy to your conduct on the road."

"Take advantage of every opportunity to render the best service you have in you."

"The information of your house, of which you are a part, should always be your first consideration."

"Trade fairly."

"Also remember that dress and address are very essential," he added.

"Natty clothes, clean linen and polished shoes command respect. Remember it is the first impression that counts."

"Wielandy related incidents from his own experience to show that respectfulness is constantly needed to bring a stubborn or particularly trying buyer to the point of getting his order down in black and white."

"For the stomach and Liver Just try the 50c bottle of Lax-Five With Peppin. A Liquid Digestive Laxative. Pleasant to take. Adv."

FALLS DEAD WHILE DRIVING AUTO

Louis Niemeyer, 55 years old, of 4654 A. McPherson avenue, a professional bondman, who during the recent department store strike signed the bonds of several hundreds of sales clerks arrested for picketing, fell dead in his automobile at 11:30 o'clock last night.

Two negroes saw the machine severing its path in front of 2824 Layton avenue and, after hitting the curb and rebound to the opposite side of the street and run onto the sidewalk. They found Niemeyer hanging limp over the front door of the car.

Work for the Constable.

FEW persons in Pine Top, a Southern town in the mountains, had ever seen an automobile, so when a big car stopped for a few minutes in the isolated village the curious inhabitants gazed at the devil-wagon with a mixture of fear and awe, and the owner, who had entered the general store to make a purchase, heard one rustic remark: "I'll bet it's a man-killer."

"Where," asserted the other, "look at the number on the back. That shows how many people it's run over. That's accordin' to law. Now, if that feller was to run over anybody here in Pine Top it would be our duty to telegraph that number—1244—to the next town ahead."

"And what would they do?" demanded the interested auditors.

"Why, the Constable would stop him and change his number to 1245," Harper's.
